Francis of Assisi—"And the Lord gave me brothers..."

It is later in the autumn of 1206 that with his decision to "leave the world" Francis began to be aware of the powerful Divine Presence in his life, through his work among the lepers near Assisi, and his habit of taking refuge in churches for prayer and rebuilding the structures. At San Damiano he encountered the consoling presence of the Savior; a presence he soon came to recognize in other churches: "And the Lord granted me such faith in churches that I would pray simply and say: We adore you, Lord Jesus Christ, in all your churches throughout the world, and we bless you, because by your Holy Cross, you have redeemed the world." (Testament 4-7). Francis was at the beginnings of an inner peace.

Perhaps his former friends and companions only saw the lost soul, a rich boy playing at conventional forms of medieval piety. There are accounts of Francis being insulted by citizens of Assisi and occasionally physically abusing him as he went about the town seeking work—and when unable to secure work, begging for funds to complete the work at San Damiano. But it is also clear that despite his outward appearance as a pious church hanger-on, other people were watching, and his way of daily life and his now joyful demeanor were becoming attractive. Within days of each other, Bernard of Quintavalle (a person of comfortable status) and Peter (a poor person) arrived and after living with Francis for a few days asked to join him in his way of following Christ. As Francis later wrote, indeed, there was no one to show him what all this meant. His "protector," Bishop Guido of Assisi, was away.

On Wednesday, April 16th, Francis and his two brothers went to the family church, San Nicolò di Piazza in Assisi, and found the parish priest. The three asked the priest to reveal the Lord's will for them by performing a sortes biblicae—the opening of the Bible at random three times to find verses that would reveal God's will. It was a popular practice of the laity in Francis' time. The parish priest used the altar missal to guide the brothers. Interestingly, that altar missal is now part of the collection of the Walters Museum in Baltimore—but that is another story. The random opening of the missal revealed the following passages:

- Mark 10:17-21: "Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me."
- Luke 9:1-6: "Take nothing for the journey, no staff, no bag, nor bread, nor money; and do not have two tunics."
- Matthew 16:24-28: "If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his Cross and follow me."

"...no one showed me what I had to do, but the Most High Himself revealed to me that I should live according to the pattern of the Holy Gospel." These texts would become the basic form of Franciscan life.

And the initial fraternity was formed.

Please Note: The parish office will be closed on Monday, January 17th in observance of the Martin Luther King, Jr., Holiday

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

It was several years ago now, but the scene is still vivid in my mind. My son stood confidently in front of the altar as the music rose in a crescendo and his bride stepped into sight. The love and joy he felt trickled down his cheek as she walked down the aisle. He broke into a smile as she joined him, and proudly took her hand to promise to become one with her forever. Isaiah writes: “As a bridegroom rejoices in his bride so shall your God rejoice in you.” Isaiah was talking about the nation of Israel, but God loves and rejoices in each of his children and wants us to know the joy of being loved by him. He generously shares his gifts with us, “different kinds of spiritual gifts but the same Spirit,” St. Paul explains to the Corinthians. All spiritual gifts come from God, and all are important and necessary: “To each individual, the manifestation of the Spirit is given for some benefit.” God’s gifts are distributed uniquely to each person to use in our own unique way to “announce his salvation, day after day,” and invite others to discover the joy of his great love.

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

You are a masterpiece! This message was conveyed at the camp our diocese held each year to help teens recognize that they are God’s beloved sons and daughters, called and gifted by the Holy Spirit to be missionary disciples. Discerning what our gifts are and how to use them can be challenging. The Gospel about the wedding at Cana offers an interesting guide. Mary tells the waiters, “Do whatever he tells you.” By reserving time for listening and not speaking during prayer, we can hear what Jesus is “telling” us. Jesus then says to the waiters, “Fill the jars with water.” We can “fill our jars” with the knowledge of how to live as disciples by reflecting on Scripture. Finally, Jesus tells the waiters, “Draw some out.” We can “draw” on his love for strength and courage when we need it, but more importantly, we are called to “draw some out” to share with others. In sharing the “good wine,” the Good News of Jesus Christ, others will begin to believe in him, too.

PRAYER As the new year gets under way, devote time to discerning the unique spiritual gifts, or charisms, you have been given. Make time for silent prayer and reflecting on Scripture each day.

THE WEDDING AT CANA

On the third day there was a wedding in Cana in Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

Jesus and his disciples were also invited to the wedding.

When the wine ran short, the mother of Jesus said to him, "They have no wine." (And) Jesus said to her, "Woman, how does your concern affect me? My hour has not yet come."

His mother said to the servers, "Do whatever he tells you."

Now there were six stone water jars there for Jewish ceremonial washings, each holding twenty to thirty gallons.

Jesus told them, "Fill the jars with water." So they filled them to the brim. Then he told them, "Draw some out now and take it to the headwaiter." So they took it.

And when the headwaiter tasted the water that had become wine, without knowing where it came from (although the servers who had drawn the water knew), the headwaiter called the bridegroom and said to him, "Everyone serves good wine first, and then when people have drunk freely, an inferior one; but you have kept the good wine until now."

Jesus did this as the beginning of his signs in Cana in Galilee and so revealed his glory, and his disciples began to believe in him.
